Rain Storm Holds Back Gemini Trip

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — ship since 11 a.m. EDT when technical problems and a rain storm held back the Gemini 5 mission. The countdown was being forced to postpone the eight-day Gemini 5 flight of two astronauts, L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr.

There was no immediate indication when the flight would be rescheduled, but it was believed that another attempt would not be made before Saturday.

The effort was called off at 1:45 p.m. EDT as Cooper and Conrad tensely waited out the rainstorm while seated in the cramped quarters of their spacecraft. They had been in the spacecraft since 11 a.m. EDT when technical problems and a rain storm held back the Gemini 5 mission.

Engineers Wanted Further Check But Rainstorm Sweeps Over Cape

The contractors switched to a backup system and it worked fine.

When the primary system was switched back on it was working also. But engineers expressed some concern and they wanted to take an extra 15 minutes to check it. In the meantime, the thunder and lightning swept in over the Cape and drenched the launch area.

Even as the rain began pelting the launch complex, Cooper and Conrad said they still were anxious to go. Minutes later, the control center called the shot off for the day.

The astronauts were expected to stay in the craft about 30 to 40 minutes to wait for technicians to carry out program May 15-16, 1965.

When told of the postponement, Cooper was quoted as saying: "Aw, gee, you promised a launch today and not a wet job ahead."

Former SS Men At Auschwitz Given Life Prison Terms Today

FRANKFURT (CP) — Six former Nazi SS men and functionaries of the Auschwitz concentration camp were sentenced to the maximum term of life in prison today on charges of mass murder or aiding in the war-time mass murder of Auschwitz inmates.

Eleven others drew prison terms ranging from 14 years to three years and three months. Three were acquitted.

The verdicts came after a 20-month trial, the longest and largest in German legal history. Several Auschwitz survivors were in the audience that listened tensely as Judge Hans Hofmeyer read the sentences.

The main hall of the Gallus Community Centre, the courtroom for most of the trial, was packed to capacity.

The men of Auschwitz were indicted for what the prosecution called the "greatest crime in history" — the attempted extermination of the Jews in Europe.

An estimated 4,000,000 Jews and other prisoners lost their lives at Auschwitz, Hitler's most notorious death factory.

CONSTRUCTION INCREASES — The bureau noted that the increase in construction jobs over the year was one of the highest on record.

The jobs breakdown also showed 182,000 men and 62,000 women were included. An estimated 76,000 of the men were married; 18,000 of the women.

No Child Should Be Afraid Of First Day Of School

OTTAWA (CP) — No child should fear going to school for the first time if his parents have properly prepared him for the experience, says psychologists and medical doctors in the federal health department.

In fact, most children look forward to the first day at school. Usually they have friends or older brothers and sisters who have told them what it will be like, and they have probably been longing to go to school for quite some time.

The health department's mental health division has issued a pamphlet — available at local and provincial health departments — for the guidance of parents whose children will be going to school for the first time this fall.

It says the child's health is one important factor parents should consider.

"Have your family physician or the local public health clinic give him a complete physical examination. An eye examination is very important. His teeth should be checked, too, by a dentist."

If these examinations show there are ailments or defects, they should be corrected if possible before the child goes to school.

IMMUNIZE NOW
The health department says that if your child has not yet been immunized against such childhood diseases as diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox, this should be done immediately.

"If all immunizations have been done previously, make sure your child gets the necessary booster dose."

Parents should make sure their school-bound child gets regular and sufficient sleep. "He needs from 10 to 12 hours of sleep in a quiet, darkened room with an open window, to build up his energy and offset tiredness."

The child's ability to speak so that he can be understood is obviously a basic necessity.

"He learns speech habits in his home so let him hear good English—encourage him to say what he means in sentences, not merely in single words and phrases which are understood in the family."

It is best to set an example of soft, pleasant voices, avoiding harsh loud tones. You should teach him correct terms and names of things. He should be able to say clearly his whole name, address and telephone number.

AVOID BABY TALK
"Baby talk sounds cute at home, perhaps, but he'll be embarrassed, maybe laughed at, if he carries this habit to school with him."

The pamphlet says parents should not be too inquisitive about their child's first experiences at school.

"He wants to be on his own, like his fellow pupils. The exciting time he has in feeling self-important and independent may, for a time, make him guard his new experiences as quite secret; something very private and precious to him."

He may resent parents' questions and curiosity and try to keep his new life apart from them. "This is a phase that soon passes in a happy blending of school and home influences."

Parents are advised to be careful not to criticize their children's school work too much. "Meet his pride with your praise his efforts with the same enthusiasm he shows for them and go easy on criticism. He'll move further and faster with praise than with criticism."

at the double-ring ceremony and the soloist, Mrs. Pat Beat, sang "Bless This House" accompanied by Mrs. Domer.

Given in marriage by her father, the pretty bride wore a full length gown of silk organza over tulle. The bodice was fashioned with a yolk and elbow-length sleeves of Swedish lace; the skirt was bell shaped, and from the back shoulder line a long train of Swedish lace bordered with organza fell gracefully from a big organza bow. Flowers of silk organza held in place her three tiered, over-the-face veil of silk illusion net, and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses, lilacs, meadowlark and fern tied with white satin streamers dotted with rose buds.

For something borrowed—something blue—the bride wore a borrowed headpiece and a blue garter.

Acting as her sister's maid of honor was Miss Gayle Odland, the bridesmaid was Marg Jeffery of Kelowna, and the two junior bridesmaids were Miss Deanne Wansay and Miss Grace Odland, young sister of the bride.

The maid of honor and the bridesmaid wore identical, sleeveless floor length dresses of dusty pink tulle or silk styled with scoop necklines and sparkling organza stoles, and the junior bridesmaids were charming in similar dresses featuring ruffles at the hemlines. All four attendants wore flowered headpieces of tulle and sparkling organza, tiny aureole beaded headbands, gifts from the bride, and carried bouquets of white carnations centered with pink roses.

Terry Brooks of Kelowna was the best man, and the ushers were Perry Stang and Ted Jeffery, both of Kelowna.

At the reception held at the Royal Anne Hotel, the mother of the bride received wearing a sheath dress of pink brocade tulle, a hat of white nylon net, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations centered with pink roses. The groom's mother, who assisted her, chose a dress of pink lace over tulle, a pretty white hat and white accessories, and she also wore a corsage of white carnations centered with pink roses.

The toast to the bride proposed by William Heywood was duly answered by the groom, and the best man gave the toast to the bridesmaids.

A cloth of white linen centered with white Terylene lace, a gift from the bride's great aunt and uncle adorned the bride's table which was set with tall pink tapers in silver candelabra flanking a three tiered wedding cake set in pink tulle, and topped with three bells and miniature doves holding wedding rings in their beaks.

Out of town guests attending the ceremony included Mr. and Mrs. C. Mills of Dawson Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deering and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Deering of Calgary; Mrs. M. Deering of Leader, Saskatchewan; Mr. and Mrs. C. Jones of Eston, Saskatchewan; Miss Bonita Bogus of Sylvan Lake, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. Stan Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Beat, and Mrs. Welch of Quesnel, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore of Chilliwack; Mr. and Mrs. John Heinrich and Mrs. Baranger of Keremeos; Mrs. Kay Zachary with Linda and Lois from Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. John Schmunk, William Schmunk and Carol, and Mrs. Patrick of Penticton.

Before leaving on her honeymoon to the United States the bride changed to a turquoise, terylene shift fashioned with long ruffled sleeves, and she carried a brown tapestry bag, and wore brown shoes on toes.

The newlyweds will reside on Glenmore Drive, Kelowna.

ANN LANDERS

Ann Is Well Told Off By Night Shift Worker

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like to say a word or two about that woman who signed herself "Screaming Mimi." She's the wife who was burned up because her husband who worked the midnight shift had the habit of saying to her, when he left the house to go to work, "Now go right to bed honey."

Mimi wrote "Where in the world WOULD I be going at that hour?"

I'm a husband who worked the midnight shift, too. I never told my wife to go straight to bed, but maybe that's where I made my big mistake. She found plenty of places to go at that hour—like every tavern and dance hall in town.

The worst part of it was that she left our kids, 9 and 6 years of age, alone in the apartment. It took me almost two years to catch up with her. When I did I really laid down the law.

So, Ann Landers, when a man leaves for the midnight shift and tells his wife to go straight to bed, why don't you stay out of it? Maybe he knows her better than you do.—MR. EXPERIENCE

Dear Mr.: Thanks for the clue I consider myself properly told off.

Dear Ann Landers: Several weeks ago our son was killed in an accident. Cal was 25 years old. He spoke often of a young woman I will call Marie. My husband and I had never met Marie or her people.

The day before the funeral Marie came to our home and told us that she and Cal had planned to be married at Christmas. She said her life was as good as over and she wished she had died with our son. The poor girl fainted during the services and had to be carried out. My husband and I were having a difficult time keeping our composure and she did not make it any easier for us.

Every night after work Marie goes to the cemetery and puts a red rose on Cal's grave. She telephones me every evening and comes over about three times a week. She insists on helping me clean house, wants to cook and bake for the family, run errands. Anything to feel close to Cal, she says.

My husband and I are slowly recovering from our grief but this girl's presence is a constant reminder of our grief and we'd prefer to see less of her. What is your advice?—MRS. B.

Dear Mrs. B.: Marie needs professional help. Urge her to get it. The girl's devotion to you is unhealthy.

Hanging around Cal's family helps feed the fantasy that he is still alive. It's not good for her or for you. When she gets the help she needs her doctor will insist she cut down her visits to your place, and the problem will be solved.

Dear Ann Landers: I read your column just to see what some people in this world consider "a problem." Honestly, with all the terrible things that are happening in the world, it's amazing how some idiot woman can write and ask what to do about a husband who puts ketchup on his mashed potatoes.

My old man used to empty bottles, too—but it wasn't ketchup he was hooked on. It was gin. My mother had to work to support the family and we were lucky if there was enough to eat. I'd give that lady ketchup

Quebec's Married Women Closer To Equality Now

Recent legislation brought Quebec's married women closer to the civil equality enjoyed by women throughout the rest of Canada. In this story Linda Crawford, Canadian Press staff writer, discusses how the new rights affect family property.

By LINDA CRAWFORD

MONTREAL (CP) — Current upheavals in Quebec's traditional way of life are having domestic as well as political repercussions.

A reappraisal of sections of the French-inspired Quebec Civil Code of 1866 dealing with married women resulted in legislation—called Bill 16—that has brought Quebec's married women closer to the civil equality taken for granted by most Canadian housewives.

Wives now can consent their children to hospital and authorize their operations without their husband's signature. Instead of merely "obeying" her husband in exchange for his "protection," a wife now "participates" with her husband in ensuring the moral and material control of the family and "exercises these functions alone when the husband is unable to make his will known by reason of his absence, incapacity, remoteness or other cause."

Quebec wives now are able in more instances to buy stocks, bonds and property without their husbands' signature.

To women living in the rest of Canada under English common law, these changes may not sound like a major breakthrough. But laws originally made to govern the lives of the early settlers in New France some 350 years ago cannot readily be transformed to accommodate today's philosophy of the "Feminine Mystique."

There is a wide gap between the two ways of life and Bill 16 was the first serious attempt to bridge it.

HOME OF HER OWN

The most important effect of Bill 16 is recognition of married women's right to take legal action. They now are considered full citizens. Previously, a married woman—a servile creature who was denied all rights under the code—in most cases was able to go to court only if she obtained permission either from her husband or from a judge.

A married woman now may engage in a calling distinct from that of her husband without his authorization, and she may be authorized by a Superior Court judge to take up another residence when that chosen by the husband exposes the family to physical or moral dangers. Before, she was obliged to follow her husband to the residence he had selected.

The property rights of women have also been extended by Bill 16. Community of property—a system whereby the wife must pool her movable property (stocks, bonds, etc.) with her husband's and allow him to administer it alone—is the legal regime under the civil code, but it has been made more flexible.

Before they met Miss Deneuve insisted: "Marriage is putting a rope round one's neck," and Bailey said: "It means nothing to me at all—we are just doing it for other people."

Miss Deneuve, star of The Umbrellas of Cherbourg, has a seven-year contract with 20th Century Fox.

"She's as temperamental as hell, like a Ferrari," the bridegroom told reporters. "She's going to be a very difficult bird to run, but she's a very un-mean girl, for a French dame."

And her son by Vadim? "I love children," he replied.

The wedding, in a registry office, was the climax of a nine-week courtship which Miss Deneuve described as "so quick, so fantastic."

Braves Top NL; Koufax Kayoed

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Milwaukee Braves had one home run disallowed and another disputed, but they won the argument, a 5-3 victory over St. Louis Cardinals and first place in National League baseball Wednesday night.

The triumph moved the Braves one-half game ahead of Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost to Philadelphia 6-3 in 12 innings.

Both Braves, homers came with the game tied 3-3. Aaron's slide on to the right field pavilion roof, but he never got a chance to circle the bases.

Umpire Chris Pelekoudas called him out, saying Aaron had hit out of the batter's box before he hit the ball.

Milwaukee manager Bobby Bragan was thrown out of the game after arguing the call.

ARGUMENT FAILS
The situation hardly had settled when pitcher Don Dillard clouted a Ray Washburn pitch to the right-center field wall. The Cardinals argued that the hit was not a home run but had hit the wall and was in play.

Umpire Bill Jackowski, however, ruled that the ball hit the top of the wall, bounced off a fan in the stands, then came back on to the field.

Dillard's first home run since Aug. 26, 1963, stood, and the Braves were in first place for the first time since opening day. In other league games, San Francisco blanked New York 5-0 and Pittsburgh edged Houston 8-7. Rain washed out Cincinnati and Chicago.

Tony Cloninger won his eighth straight game and brought his record to 18-8, stopping the Cardinals on six hits. He retired 15 batters until Curt Flood singled in the sixth. Flood moved to second on an infield out and scored the tying run as Ken Boyer singled.

Dick Stuart's three-run double in the 12th inning following Maury Wills' two-out fumble of Rich Allen's grounder topped the Dodgers from the lead for the first time since July 16.

KOUFAX KNOCKED OUT
Sandy Koufax was seeking his 22nd victory but was knocked from the mound in the eighth when the Phillies tied the game 3-3 on run-scoring singles by Allen and Stuart.

Juan Marichal pitched a three-hitter, bringing his record to 19-9 with his ninth shutout of the season, fourth over the Mets. Willie Mays hit his 34th home run.

Manny Mota drove in four runs, three with a fifth-inning double, as Pittsburgh built an 8-1 lead. But Houston exploded for six runs in the ninth, two on Ron Brandt's homer and another pair on a single by Walt Bond.

Marichal—Dick Stuart, Philadelphia, tied the game with a run-scoring single in the eighth inning, then hit a two-out three-run double in the 12th that gave the Phillies a 6-3 victory over Los Angeles and knocked the Dodgers out of first place in the National League.

Late Hours At PCL Parks

Pacific Coast League baseball players worked late Wednesday night as the three games played in Washington State went into extra innings.

Vancouver took 15 frames to down Seattle 4-2. Denver used 11 to beat Tacoma 3-2 and Salt Lake City edged Spokane 2-1 in 18 innings.

Elsewhere, Eastern division leader Oklahoma whipped San Diego 3-0 to remain seven games in front of Denver. Arkansas swept by Indianapolis 3-1 and Hawaii slid past Portland in a 6-5 victory, the Islanders' second straight come-from-behind win over the Western division leaders.

At Seattle, a two-run homer by Charlie Deas put the host Angels ahead 3-1 in the eighth, but singles by Ossie Chavarria and Woody Huxley tied it for Vancouver in the ninth. Seattle left the bases loaded in the 12th and then fell apart in the 13th, committing three errors to give the Mounties their two winning runs.

Rain Hampers Junior Net Play
OTTAWA (CP)—Rain wiped out most afternoon matches at the Canadian junior open tennis championships Wednesday, leaving the rain-soaked clay courts at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club unusable.

The Americans were assured of a third open title in a morning match when Nancy Lewis of New York eliminated the only Canadian in the semi-finals of the 14-and-under age class. She defeated Jane O'Hara of Toronto 6-3, 6-1.

The last Canadians were eliminated from the boys' and girls' 12-and-under classes Tuesday.

In other play Wednesday, Marjorie Genger of Leont Valley, N.Y., advanced to the girls 18-and-under final by defeating second-seeded Canadian Stephanie Green of Vancouver 6-3, 6-4.

In the 16-and-over boys play, second U.S. seed Chuck Brainerd of Hamtramck, Mich., edged fifth-seeded Canadian Robin Elliot of Vancouver 6-2, 6-4 in their fifth-round match.

Spain Ousts U.S. Davis Cuppers
BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—Spain is headed for its first challenge round and the United States is back to mending fences in the Davis Cup tennis competition.

The Spanish, led by the spectacular Manuel Santanero, defeated a 3-0 underdog American in the inter-zone final by winning the doubles here Wednesday. Now they play in the final for the right to take on Australia in December.

For the third time in five years, the Americans have been stopped short of the challenge round.

Als Acquire New Lease On Life Stun Argos With 20-0 Pasting

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Alouettes of the Eastern Football Conference out-rushed out-passed and out-buffed a generally inept Toronto Argonaut squad 20-0 here Wednesday night to gain their annual victory in three starts this season for 20,000 pleased fans.

The Als, who shared the cellar with the Argos going into Wednesday's game with two losses and no wins, appeared to take a new lease on life from the acquisition of hard-running fullback J. W. Lockett, obtained last week through Washington Redskins of the National League.

Lockett charged up the middle for three yards and a touchdown in the final minute of the first quarter and continued to push the Als' offense into territory for impressive gains until taking a knee injury in the third quarter.

Ernie White also went over from the three-yard line, at 4:1 of the third quarter and quarterback Bernie Faloney helped his own cause by scoring the final Lark touchdown at 9:11 of the fourth quarter on a broken play that forced him to carry instead of handing off to George Dixon.

Bill Bewley converted Lockett's touchdown, but was wide on his attempt of the second. Gino Berretta gained the extra point on Faloney's score.

Defensive half Ralph Goldston made the key defensive play of the game. With the Argos at the Montreal 15-yard line, quarterback Jackie Parker elected to throw to Dave Thelen on a first and 10 situation. Goldston was there ahead of Thelen to grab the pass and run the ball 66 yards to the Argos' 30.

IT WAS FRUSTRATING
For the Argos it was another frustrating experience. When Goldston grabbed Parker's pass, it marked the deepest penetration the Toronto club had managed into Alouettes territory all night.

Blocked Kick Paves Way For Stamps' Comeback

CALGARY (CP)—A key block of an attempted field goal helped Calgary Stampedeers to nip Edmonton Eskimos 16-15 in a hard-fought Western Football Conference game Wednesday night.

The win propelled Calgary into a second-place tie with Saskatchewan Roughriders in the WFC standings, each with four points. Winnipeg Blue Bombers are leading with eight points on four straight wins.

British Columbia Lions, last year's WFC champions and Grey Cup winners, are in third place with two points. Eskimos sank lower into last place with their fourth straight defeat.

It appeared Edmonton might when the game was tied 15-15 in the fourth quarter. The Eskimos had marched to Calgary's 15 and Bill Mitchell attempted a field goal.

But Calgary linebacker Don Stephenson, a former Eskimo, blocked the attempt and Jim Furlong of the Stampedeers recovered. Stampedeers moved the ball to the Edmonton 14, mostly on the strength of Eagle Day's passing, and Furlong booted a game-winning single.

SEVERAL HURT
The game produced several injuries. Edmonton fullback Bill Tobin was injured early in the first quarter. He was helped from the field, favoring his ankle, and did not return. Calgary centre Dale Parsons was kneed in the back. Eskimo guard Jim Higgins suffered banged-up ribs and Lovel Coleman and Paul Dunley of Stampedeers had pained leg muscles.

Halfback Jim Thomas led Edmonton scoring with two touchdowns, a short gallop from two yards out in the first quarter and a sparkling 66-yard run late in the third quarter.

Mitchell's convert attempt on Thomas' first touchdown went unconverted and Thomas' second touchdown was nullified when Eskimos were called for roughing. But he converted in the third quarter with a 48-yard field goal.

Larry Robinson of Stampedeers kicked a 19-yard field goal in the third quarter, added a 19-yard field goal in the fourth quarter and converted a brilliant 58-yard touchdown run by Coleman in the second quarter to lead Calgary scorers with seven points.

THE GIN THAT WON THE WEST
When Englishmen first came to their Western Canadian ranches their taste for LONDON DRY GIN came with them.

What more natural thing to do here — where fine grain and mineral water produce splendid spirits — than to import botanicals, such as juniper, coriander and other exotic flora, and begin distilling gin in the LONDON DRY tradition?

From this heritage comes RANCHMAN'S — the western gin with the English accent.

Next time, ask for RANCHMAN'S GIN ... In any accent you like.

Boat With Wings on Show At Engineers' Coast Meet

VANCOUVER (CP)—A radically-designed boat with wings which its builder claims can reach speeds of 200 knots, will be on display at the annual meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers, which opens here Tuesday.

Mr. DeVault said the design is capable of speed up to 200 knots, with payloads equal to 50 per cent of the total boat weight.

Mr. DeVault said the design is capable of speed up to 200 knots, with payloads equal to 50 per cent of the total boat weight.

LEIFTS OFF WATER

Adjustable end plates on the wings provide lift power for periods when the boat "flies" over the water on pressure from air passing under the wings.

Mr. DeVault said boats of the new design would outperform conventional craft, hydrofoils and hovercraft and could carry bigger payloads and would be cheaper to build and operate.

He said a hovercraft does not come in direct contact with the water but moves by forcing air against it. The hydrofoil uses

Daring Burglars For Oregon Jail

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. (AP)—The two most daring burglars in the history of Brookings, Ore., are headed back to the place they robbed—the Brookings city jail. Police said Daniel L. Richards, 29, and Gerald J. Plummer, 19, both of Brookings, broke into the jailhouse early last Saturday and stole two cameras, keys, binoculars and a half-gallon of wine newly confiscated from a prisoner.

JAIL BECOMES HAVEN

GNOSHALL, England (CP)—The Women's Institute in this Staffordshire village plans to buy the old jail building and turn part of the site into a garden for old people. Said one member, "The jail is the only nice-looking thing in the village, apart from the church."

PENNY LASTS 1,200 YEARS AND THEN SOME

Sad News For Numismatists

LONDON (CP)—The Royal Mint has sad news today for British penny-watchers, North American numismatists and needle-weary wives in the British Isles.

The mint's 85th annual report debunks a belief widely held for three decades that a 1933 penny could turn up in somebody's loose change and fetch the finder about $35,000 from the nearest coin dealer.

Only six pennies were minted in 1933, the report says. Two are in the mint's museum, one in the British Museum and the other three are embedded in cornerstones of London University and churches in Leeds and Middleton, Yorkshire.

Coin collectors in North America are being duped, the report suggests, by a crane for "famous hoarding of pennies in bulk" in speculation that they might become valuable some day.

One Yorkshire dealer has shipped 200,000 pennies to U.S. dealers during the last three years at $30 per thousand, more than twice their face value.

CITES EXAMPLE

The mint report cites an example of one U.S. coin dealer advertising 1964 English pennies as having "good investment potential." More than 144,000,000 pennies were minted in 1964.

The had news for British wives comes with the estimate that even more of the cumbersome, heavy pennies will be minted this year to wreak havoc with trouser pockets, requiring more mending and patching.

John Hastings James, comptroller and deputy master of the mint, admits that these "unhappy pieces"—about the size of a Canadian 50-cent coin—have driven his task to provide especially reinforced pockets in his trousers.

However, John Hastings

holds out no hope of tackling the British pocket problem at its source by reducing the size and weight of the coinage.

The English penny has been part of the currency, in roughly its present size, for 1,200 years. Unless or until Britain adopts decimal coinage, as proposed by the government, the penny menace is likely to remain.

A final note for frustrated collectors having trouble getting pennies for the years 1923, 1924, 1925, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1953 and 1954 to 1960 inclusive:

No pennies were minted in those years.

Weekly Newspapers Urged To Oppose Controls Ruling

EDMONTON (CP)—The Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association Wednesday urged to follow its daily newspaper counterpart in opposing federal legislation that curbs foreign control of Canadian publications.

John Sanctor, president of Monitor Publishing Co. Ltd. of Montreal, said the government should consider newspaper publishing as a business. "I wonder why the newspaper business should be singled out," he asked.

Mr. Sanctor said the Canadian Daily Newspaper Publishers Association and the Commonwealth section of the International Press Union both opposed the legislation, passed in April.

The Liverpool group publishes the daily Red Deer Advocate and four weekly newspapers in Canada. Monitor Publishing publishes and prints several weekly newspapers in the Montreal area.

Mr. Harker said his company's papers are deemed Canadian-owned under the legislation because they were established more than a year before it came into effect. But the company now could not buy or start another publication.

Don Bonerville of Oliver, B.C., said foreign control of oil and lumber industries in Canada is "far different to having a means of communication controlled."

Been waiting for the right moment to buy your new Pontiac?

This is it.

Perhaps your Pontiac is a convertible. Or a sport coupe. A four-door sedan, maybe. Or a station wagon. But whichever model you choose, be assured that it's all Pontiac. With all Pontiac's desirability, quality and value. And it has never been easier to buy that new Pontiac than it is right now. Reason? For one thing, the 1965 Pontiac is Canada's Success Car. And where you find volume sales, you know you'll also find the best deals. It's as simple as that. And there's one more thing in your favour. Because of unusually high used car sales, your Pontiac dealer needs all the good, clean late-models he can get. That means that your present car just has to be worth more when you trade on a Pontiac. And when you consider Pontiac's modest price

... well, the picture gets even brighter. So if you've been waiting for the right time to buy that new Pontiac, wait no longer. The magic moment is here.

Wilson Hopes To Make Speech Before UN General Assembly

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Wilson hopes to address the United Nations 20th General Assembly shortly after it begins in New York Sept. 21, officials said here today.

But they hoped reports Wilson was going to turn the occasion into a Big Three summit meeting between the British prime minister, President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin.

However, a meeting between Wilson and Johnson in Washington is likely to take place while Wilson is in the U.S.

The British prime minister has been intent on addressing the General Assembly ever since his Labor party came into power last October.

He was scheduled to make a major policy speech to the UN in November but had to cancel it when Secretary-General U Thant became ill.

It was later decided he would appear at the General Assembly

Japan Peace Corps To Go On Missions

They will be the first sent abroad under a Japanese government program to help developing countries.

Starling Horfoot Sets Nest On Fire

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — A starling who tried to feather his nest with a lit cigarette brought firemen to the home of Richard Sheesley. The bird, firemen said, apparently packed up the cigarette Tuesday from a street and dropped it into the nest, under Sheesley's porch roof. The fire was doused quickly.

BRIDGE FALLING DOWN VANCOUVER (CP) —

Vancouver's Georgia Viaduct, 68 years old and full of bumps, is falling down, say city engineers. City engineer Raa Martin said Tuesday the bridge is slowly collapsing under its own weight as he presented council with a report saying an earthquake could knock it down. He said $100,000 of maintenance work is necessary. Ratepayers will vote on a new bridge Sept. 29.

East won with the ace and returned the four. West taking the queen with the king.

West returned a low spade which East ruffed with the eight. It was at this point that South had to watch his stop, for he would have been defeated. Had he overruffed, he would inevitably have gone down one, losing two spades, a heart and a club.

But South discarded a club when East ruffed the spade, and then proceeded to make the contract with the aid of a heart finesse. He would have had to lose a trump trick later, as well as a club, if he had overruffed the eight with the ten.

West's lead of a low spade at trick three was based on the hope that East had as good as the right, ten or jack of trumps, in which case the defense would be certain of making at least one trump trick.

South's discard of a club was based first on the assumption that West had not taken leave of his senses in returning a low spade instead of the jack, and second that he had to lose a club trick in any case and that it would be better to lose it at once without weakening his trump holding at the same time.

The reasoning was certainly simple enough; what South really deserved credit for was his alertness in resisting the almost automatic impulse to overruff the eight with the ten.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
 Mercury influences, especially generous now, encourage written matters of any kind, are particularly favorable to advertising and promotion copy writers and to all those engaged in literary pursuits, including publishers. Those in other fields of communication are also star-blessed.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
 If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, despite an excellent financial period, star-promised between mid-September and mid-November, and several others which will be listed below, it would be extremely wise for you and all Leoties to avoid any kind of speculation during the next 12 months. The cautious and conservative path in monetary affairs, suggested last year for all those born under your Sign, continues advisable for another year. Protect assets during the first two weeks of September, especially also in late December, January, March and May.

Your next good fiscal periods after November 15th will occur during early December, next February, April and June.

Where occupational interests are concerned, your best periods for making advances and gaining gratifying recognition for past efforts will occur in late September, early December, next January, March and May. Artistic and scientific workers should achieve notably throughout the months of September, December, January and June.

Look for some very happy personal experiences during this new year of your life—especially in the fields of romance and social activity. Most glamorous periods on these fronts: Between now and September 15th and between mid-November and January 1st. New romance and/or marriage will also be generously governed next May and June.

Avoid irritability in mid-December and throughout next April, and all should be serene on the domestic score.

Most auspicious periods for travel except for short trips, will not occur until 1969, when the months of January, May, July and August will be excellent.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a magnetic personality and could excel in any field which involves dealing with the public—especially from the executive level.
